

A Little Bit of Vino

The news everyone has been waiting for has finally arrived and Vino will be opening its doors and Fabio will be welcoming you to the bar on Friday 17th of July, with open arms, at a distance.

For the safety of ourselves and our customers we now have limited space with a maximum of ten people in the shop at one time across the front and back room. Additional seating and space will be out the front where coffee, wine and food can be enjoyed, weather permitting, this is England.

With the new limited space in mind we respectfully ask you to think of others and that when you are finished that you ask and pay for your bill in a timely manner to allow others to come in and enjoy a glass or two.

Coffee will only be served 9am to 1pm and if over the limit or you're in a rush, takeout will be available so you can enjoy our 100% Arabica beans.

And if you have a keen eye we will be opening now at 9am adding Sundays and Bank Holiday Mondays to the opening hours. More details can be found on the website.

And due to the great success of our delivery service over this period we will be continuing this even once open.

We would like to thank our customers new and old who have used our delivery service, you are the reason we are glad to be back to the new normal on the 17th.

See you soon,
